EXPLORE WHITE PLAINS' MANY PARKS WITH PASSPORT TO PARKS

Pick Up Your Passport This Saturday at Truck Day

White Plains, NY – May 18, 2016 – Looking for something fun and adventurous to do this summer with the kids? The White Plains Recreation and Parks Department has the solution: Passport to Parks.

Passport to Parks offers a safe and fun way to travel, explore and discover White Plains parks. The City Recreation and Parks Department is recognizing the National Park Trust “Kids to Parks Day” by offering free Passports to Parks this Saturday, May 21st, 10:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m. at Truck Day. Truck Day will be held at the Gedney Recycling Yard, on Gedney Way (next door to the Recreation and Parks Dept. HQ). You’ll then be ready to pack up your family and take them on a memory-making journey through White Plains.

White Plains families will embark on a wonderful journey using the Passport to Parks as your guide. This passport will encourage you to visit 12 fabulous city parks and take in the activities, natural beauty and history that they offer. Here is a sampling of what you will discover with the Passport to Parks: View White Plains from a new perspective by heading to one of the city’s highest points and the site of an historic Revolutionary War battle. Discover new walking and running trails that are tucked away from our busy streets, places for quiet contemplation and relaxation with great natural beauty or head into the heart of our downtown to dance along with the dancing fountains, music and vibe of our urban core.

After you have traveled, explored and participated in the adventures of each park, bring your completed passport to the Recreation and park office on 85 Gedney Way for your travel stamps and the Passport to Parks T-shirt.
